New Fees For New Home Buyers In New Castle

New home builders in New Castle County will have to pay an extra fee on new home permits. Of course, this fee will trickle down to new home buyers.

They will inevitably have to pay a percentage of the value of their new home, along with that $510 impact fee.

County officials say that this additional fee will raise $500,000 and go towards the county's 21 volunteer fire companies. The officials added that had little choice.

With the struggling housing market, is this new surcharge really a good move?

Fox 29's Claudia Gomez reported on this issue today.
